Congregations join in music

BY VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The congregations, choirs and musicians from Holy Eucharist Ukrainian Catholic Church and St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church joined their Elk Point United Church counterparts Sunday night to celebrate the Christmas season with song, scripture and pageant.

"The story of Christmas never seems to grow stale," said St. Michael's parishioner Paul Chamberland as he prepared to give the benediction at the end of the evening. "It's always fresh and lively."

Chamberland commended the three congregations for "coming together to celebrate Christmas."

All three churches were represented in the procession, as the combined choirs sang, "Good Christian Friends, Rejoice," as they made their way to the front of the church.

Youngsters from all three churches took part in the Nativity Pageant, telling the old, old story with a modern twist. Tia Lowry and Dallas Anderson were the Holy couple, with Justin Anderson the innkeeper who found them refuge in his stable. Brenda Rosher, Megan Hawryluk, Jessie and Georgia Theriault, Paige Henderson and Hailey Berlinguette were angels bringing the wondrous news of the holy birth to shepherds Sam Henderson, Hank and Charlie Rogal, Danny and Joe Cardinal and Keaton Hawryluk, while J.J. and Shaun Bzowy and Ross Hawryluk were the wise men who came from afar to bring gifts to the newborn King.

Extravaganza another huge success for chamber

BY VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce members are congratulating themselves on another hugely successful Christmas Extravaganza.

"It was an excellent parade. It was shorter, but the floats were out of this world," chamber president and Extravaganza co-chair Sandy Smith said at last week's regular chamber meeting.

"Everything worked well with the horses," she reported on behalf of Dwayne Odgaard, who organized the wagon rides. "There was no rowdiness, and apparently having supervision on each wagon worked well."

The photos with Santa went very smoothly this year, with a crew of ATB Financial staff taking photo orders at the beginning of the lineup and photographer Leanne Gilbert operating two cameras alternately, each with their own printer. Photos were ready in mere minutes, with Dee Pankiw, Peggy Smereka and Joanne Bepalko keeping track of the photos in the temporary studio as each youngster came to visit Santa. Mrs. Santa is reported to have commented on how the procedure has improved over the many years that she and Santa have been attending Extravaganza. Gilbert has already volunteered to return for the 2008 Extravaganza.

Lesia and Adolph Porcina were thanked for providing a warm indoor venue for the entertainment in their Cal's Hardware location. The space was not large enough for a big crowd, but both entertainers and audience very much appreciated being indoors on a very chilly night. The Porcinas in turn thanked Rod Randall and his crew of volunteers who served as security in the store during the show.

The town public works crew were also praised for their efforts, which resulted in Main Street being cleared of both snow and vehicles for the evening.

The only major complaint heard Extravaganza evening was that the fireworks finale started earlier than was advertised with some shoppers missing out on the colourful light show. It was also noted that the bonfires were started later than planned.

Chamber members discussed the possibility of town council making major changes to Elk Point's economic development committee, and the ramifications this could have for projects spearheaded by the EDC that are currently underway, such as highway signage and the updated website.

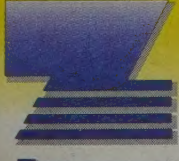

Light up, win big

The chamber is making it worthwhile for residents to light up for Christmas. Members voted to award prizes of $300, $200 and $100 to the winners of this year's Christmas lighting and decorating contest.

The prizes are a big jump from the $25, $15 and $10 of previous years, but as chamber president Sandy Smith pointed out, the cost of electricity may make some homeowners shy away from decorating.

"If we want people to light up the town, we have to make it worth their while."

Judging will take place on the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 19.

a number of times this year, and when it springs leaks and goes down, so do the games and practices. But now, thanks to the Town of Elk Point and the County of St. Paul for their generous donation from their emergency fund, we will be getting a new boiler for Christmas. Now all we need is our two front teeth! All our minor hockey players and figure skaters are grateful to our county and town councillors who sit on this committee.

The Atom Avalanche were on the road and played in Saddle Lake on Saturday, coming home with a big 8 to 0 win. Colin "Naz Jr." Nazarchuk with a hat trick, including a TSN high light reel penalty shot that deaked the goalie right out of his shorts. Brodin Ference and Michael Mahoney with two goals each, Brandon Bourne and Vikram Sidhu assisting. And a goose egg for goalie Brandon Garrett, who was between the pipes playing in his first game ever as a tender, shutting the door on the Warriors.

A great weekend for the Peewee Avalanche, pulling off two wins and a tie in their first three games in the new tier two league. The boys played in Mannville on Friday night coming home with a five-all tie. Trever "the Kid" Ballas with a single, Logan "Paycheck" Becker depositing two in the bank and assisting on another, "Dan the Man" Garrett also with two goals and an assist. Andrew "Bruise Brother" Jenner and Vital Quinney getting assists. Goalie Brayden "Mr. Scrooge" Vinge was as stingy as ever closing the door on the vault and hiding the combination.

Saturday the Avalanche traveled to the Border City, coming home with two points in a very close match. The hard nosed rugged defenseman Matthew "Bruise Brother" Jenner with two goals, "Dan the man," "the Kid," Rylan Buffalo and big 'D'-man Brett "the Moose" Ockerman all scoring in this one, Andrew Jenner with three assists.

On Sunday the Avalanche hosted the Dewberry Colts and sent them home packing with a 7 to 2 victory. A hat trick for "the Kid," singles for Jarred McGilvery, Rylan Buffalo and "Dan the Man" and scoring his first goal ever, Dakota Amyotte. Logan "Paycheck" Becker with four helpers, Tell May and Rylee Pankiw also getting assists..

past weekend in North Battleford. You'd never guess she's only playing in her first year of hockey: outstanding in net for the Storm, or should we say, she stood on her head, goalie Robyn Maennchen.

The Micro Novice Tornadoes and Novice Hurricanes both had this past weekend off to do a little Christmas shopping.

Coming up tonight, Tuesday, Dec. 11 at 7p.m., the monthly Elk Point Minor Hockey meeting, followed by the Arena Operating Committee meeting.

And mark this on your calendar and don't forget, Saturday, Dec. 15th right here at the AGR, team captain Lee "BoBo" Letestu, Devin Moneta, Scott Dallaire, Brodie Schmitt and the rest of the St. Paul Jr. B Canadiens will be in town, right here to take on Killam, game time is 7.30p.m. Come on out and watch this exciting action.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "We get nose jobs all the time in the NHL, and we don't even have to go to the hospital." Last week's answer to: "I was 14 when I lost them (his front teeth). The main thing was we won the game, so I was the happiest. You hate to lose your teeth and the game, too." – Bill Barber.

Alberta Energy and Utilities Board

Alberta's regulatory landscape is changing

Beginning January 1, the Alberta Energy and Utilities Board will be realigned into

- the Energy Resources Conservation Board (ERCB), which will regulate the oil and gas industry, and
- the Alberta Utilities Commission (AUC), which will regulate the utilities industry.

The emergence of these new agencies reflects the changing face of regulation in Alberta. The realignment will allow the AUC and ERCB to focus on two distinct, expanding, and increasingly complex segments of Alberta's vibrant economy.

We will ensure a seamless transition and continue to provide high-quality service to all stakeholders.

For more information on the realignment, visit the EUB Web site at www.eub.ca.

If you have concerns about oil and gas operations in your area, contact your local Field Centre. If you are concerned about a utility-related issue, call (780) 427-4903, toll free in Alberta after dialling 310-0000.

A truckload of generosity

Congregations join in music

Narration was by Seanna Leaf.

"(The youngsters) have all been so good and worked so hard. They did everything we asked of them," director Holly Myshaniuk said of her youthful cast.

The choir started off their portion of the program with an old favourite, "Star of the East," and later sang "The Ballad of Jesus Christ," based on a Middle Eastern legend, "Come, Hear the Wonderful Tidings," a traditional Czech carol, "Above, On the Mountain," an Austrian carol, "In Bethlehem's Cradle," a Puerto Rican carol, and "Child of the Manger," a product of local talent which was written by Rob Holliday with music by Holliday and Gabe Bayduza.

The youth choir sang

"Hush My Babe, Lie Still and Slumber," while Jerry Ahern added a violin solo, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," Emily and Bob Thompson sang "What Child is This?" and Mary Bezpalko sang a solo rendition of the traditional Ukrainian carol, "God Eternal."

Brooke Gormley, Jessie

Therault and Emily Thompson read the Christmas story from the Gospel of St. Luke.

The congregation joined in with a number of favourite and familiar carols, including the recessional, with "Silent Night" sung in English, Ukrainian, French and German as the actors and choir left the sanctuary.

EDITORIAL

Two weeks and counting

We're running out of time, here - there are just two weeks, 14 more sleeps, until Christmas morning is upon us. Will we be ready? Will everything get done? Will it really matter if some things on our lists just don't make it to completion?

Will we be ready? Probably not, and we probably wouldn't be if we had twice as much time, because we'd just find more things to add to the never-ending lineup, and might even start piling on 'coulds' to the 'shoulds' and 'musts.'

Whether everything will get done is a really good question. This is not really the time of year when we need 'the shortest day of the year' thrown into the mix, when we could really benefit from longer days to get all those details taken care of.

Will it really matter if some of the things we plan don't actually happen? It's likely that nobody except we who have made up that list would ever notice, or care, if not every item gets crossed off. Do we really need four kinds of fruitcake, or a table setting that would put Martha Stewart to shame, if the alternative would be spending more time enjoying Christmas with our families.

In the long run, it's the good times spent together that we will remember. Take time to savour the season.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Curling, culprits and Christmas

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE ELK POINT REVIEW AND LAKELAND REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF DECEMBER 11 IN...

1987

Elk Point's junior women's curling team, consisting of Cathy Irvine, Wendy Lorensen, Wanda Garriock and Lori Irvine and coached by Gail Hurtubise, defeated St. Paul 11 to 4 to win the zone championship. Elk Point Chamber of Commerce was knee-deep in plans for a one-night Christmas shopping Extravaganza, with a trip for two to Las Vegas as the major prize on the Santa's Shoppers Bingo.

1992

Elk Point and four other northeast Alberta communities were involved in the organization of a Regional Tourism Action Plan, ready for when funding became available. Santa Claus came early to Heinsburg as that community got a head start on the season with their annual community school family Christmas concert.

1997

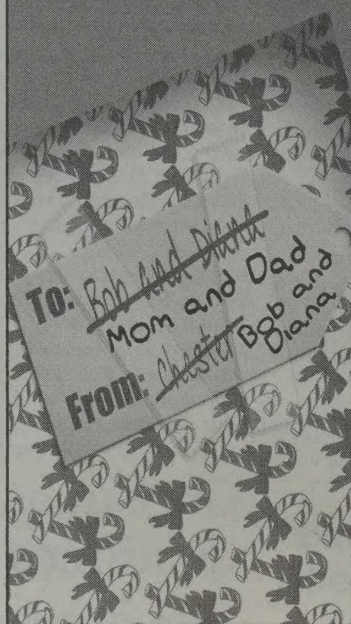

F. G. Miller senior high student Rocky Pilisko, first grader Garrett Duffee and fourth grader Dustin Costyk were excited winners of $300, $200 and $100 in Elk Point Bucks at the Christmas Extravaganza. Andrew Boddy, who saw E-Can Oilfield Services grow from two trucks and four employees in 1984 to 108 Western Stars and a huge crowd of workers, accepted Elk Point Chamber's Business of the Year award.

2002

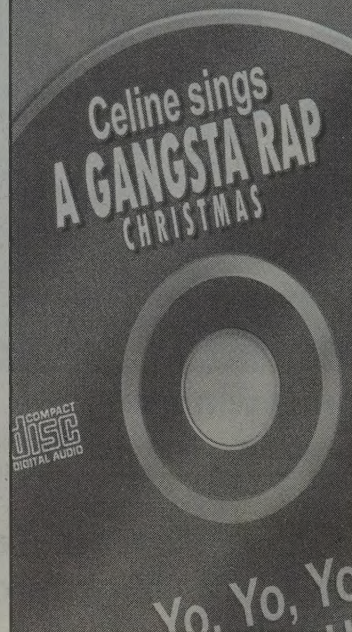

Two suspected snowmobile thieves were not even out of town when they were apprehended by the RCMP in a routine traffic stop, and the two sleds and a trailer recovered and returned to the appreciative owner. The Extravaganza committee counted up a total of 2633 entries, with 1963 of them deposited by Elk Point and district residents, and shoppers coming from as far away as Calgary, Okotoks, Edson, Lloydminster, Edmonton and Viking.

SOME SIMPLE RULES FOR REGIFTING...

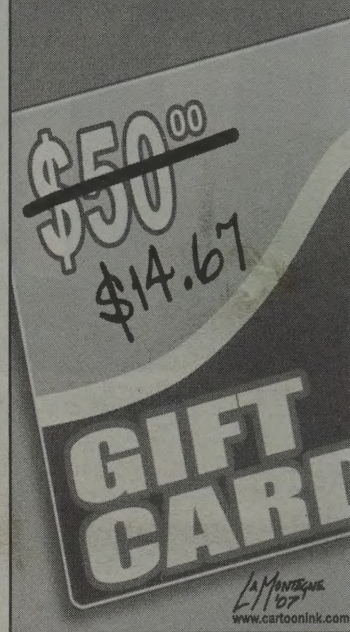

#1 - REMOVE THE OLD WRAPPING AND TAG.

#2 - IF YOU THOUGHT IT WAS A BAD CD, THEY WILL TOO.

#3 - THERE'S CHEAP, AND THEN THERE'S REALLY CHEAP.

GUEST COLUMN

Brrr... it's cold!

Hopefully, by the time you read this, the weather will have changed and it is no longer that cold outside. We could laugh about our weather, we could smile about our weather, or we could be just plain angry about our weather. But you know what? It wouldn't make any difference what you feel about our weather, it will be what it will be. In remembering the first verse of the song, "Let it Snow," the words are:

"Oh, the weather outside is frightful
But the fire is so delightful,
And since we've no place to go,
Let it snow! Let it snow! Let it snow!"

In living where we are living, most of us have come to accept our weather. Anyway, have you thought about the five Ps of cold weather preparedness? They are: Protect People; Protect Plants; Protect Pets; Protect Exposed Pipes and Practice Fire Safety.

If indoors, stay indoors and dress warmly. Conserve fuel. Lower the thermostat to 18.3 degrees (65 degrees F.) in the daytime and 12.8 degrees (55 degrees F.) at night. Close off unused rooms. If the pipes freeze, remove any insulation or layers of newspapers and wrap pipes in rags. Completely open all faucets and pour hot water over the pipes, starting where they were most exposed to the cold (or where the cold was most likely to penetrate). Listen to the radio or television to get the latest information. Residents need to be extra careful when using supplemental heating units. Make sure that all combustible materials such as drapes or chairs are at least three feet away from any heating unit. Avoids using flammable liquids to start fireplaces and do not leave a fireplace unattended. Most important, check your smoke detector to make sure it is working properly.

If outdoors, dress warmly. Wear loose-fitting, layered, lightweight clothing. Layers can be removed to prevent perspiration and chill. Outer garments should be tightly woven and water repellent. Mittens are warmer than gloves because fingers generate warmth when they touch each other. Keep dry. Change wet clothing frequently to prevent a loss of body heat. Wet clothing loses all of its insulating value and transmits heat rapidly.

The American Hear Association recommends that people who are outdoors in cold weather should avoid sudden exertion, like lifting a heavy shovel full of snow. Even walking through heavy, wet snow or snowdrifts can strain a person's heart. Besides cold temperatures, high winds, snow and rain also can steal body heat. Wind is especially dangerous, because it removes the layer of heated air from around your body. To keep warm, wear layers of clothing. This traps air between layers, forming a protective insulation. Also, wear a hat or head scarf. Much of your body's heat can be lost through your head. Ears are especially prone to frostbite. Keep your hands and feet warm, too, as they tend to lose heat rapidly.

All of this information may sound familiar, but it needs to be repeated. Every once in a while, we see people, young and older, who tend to think it is OK to go outside dressed like they would in the summer time. Frostbite and hypothermia are really not fun at all. Cold weather preparedness is the smart way to go.
